

SUMMER CLOTHING—M. GUTMAN & CO.

My Love is the Man in the Moon

May do for a song, but the fellow is too distant to be a very interesting character.

It's much more practical to think about our clothing and pass from the moon man to the well dressed man who has one of our Summer Suits.

This is not an age of moonshine and fancy, but one in which the good things in life are brought within the reach of all.

Good Clothing

Is a necessity, and better suits than ours cannot be discovered.

A Look Will Prove Their Superiority.
Our Prices Will Prove Their Cheapness.

TO NORTH WHEELING.

The Electrical Railway Company will try a Loop Track

IF IT CAN GET THE RIGHT OF WAY.

Up Market to Fifth and Thence to Main will be Run as an Experiment. It involves some Novel Features of Construction, but has been Pronounced Practicable by an Engineer.

Yesterday an INTELLIGENCER man was told that the Wheeling Railway Company had decided to apply to council at its next meeting for the right of way for a loop track to reach North Wheeling, the proposed line being from Tenth street to Fifth on Market, down Fifth to Main, and thence to Jonathan's ravine by parallel double tracks.

So emphatic had been the expressions as to the impracticability of this route by the officials of the company, that this story scarcely seemed credible on first hearing, but the reporter's informant declared that an engineer skilled in street railway work had gone over the proposed route carefully, and had pronounced it practicable, though not desirable, if a certain line of construction could be adopted on Fifth street, so as to somewhat ease the grade.

A reporter called on Mr. A. M. Jolly and asked him about this report, and he readily confirmed it. He said the directors had decided to try this if they could secure the right of way, but he did not seem entirely clear in his own mind as to the workings of the road on the grade there.

Fifth street has all along been considered for many reasons a preferable route to any other. Seventh street, which was talked of, is very steep, and is a paved street. Besides, from its direct connection between Main street and the National road, it must always be a popular route for vehicles, so that a track there would be a serious interference. The most insurmountable objection, however, is that to go no farther than Seventh street would neither benefit Market street much nor relieve Main street of the double track to a great extent.

Mr. Jolly explained that the new plan is to modify the grade slightly at Market and Fifth, so as not to start down too sudden a slope, and then run the track close to the curb line at each bend, so as to give as large a curve as possible. By doing this it is thought that the greater part of the serious difficulty can be overcome. Mr. Jolly spoke of the plan, however, judging by his tone, as rather an experiment. In fact he said he was the last of the board to acquiesce in the proposal, and then he did so, not so much because his judgment was convinced as because he did not want to seem to stand out unreasonably.

He said the company regarded the North End as a piece of territory which it could afford to cater to the best it possibly could, and when it found it could not have the double tracks on Main street it began to cast about for the next best thing, and this is the result.

Everybody will recognize at once that if this plan goes through all the advantages desired will be secured to Market and Main streets and the North End generally, as well as to the community at large, and it is to be hoped that when the ordinance is presented to Council it will be promptly adopted, so that the improvement may be pushed to completion.

Yesterday all the main line street cars ran through to Benwood over the new track, and this new arrangement worked like a charm. Better time is made on the extension, besides doing away with the annoyance of transferring at the barn. Hereafter all cars will run through. Travel was very heavy yesterday, and several of the motors towed open summer cars.

THREE PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Mountaineer's Jail Suddenly Loses Half Its Population.

Yesterday forenoon about 11 o'clock, three of the six prisoners confined in the Marshall county jail at Mountaineer made their escape, through the connivance and assistance of some person on the outside. The three were Charles Gately, of Benwood, sent up to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of aggravated assault on a man with a poker; a colored man charged with stealing a watch and some clothes from another colored man, and the negro put in for stealing meat from a farmer.

At the time of the escape the jailer and everybody else was out of the building. He was sitting in front of court house. Some person as yet unknown, who doubtless saw the jailer there, sneaked into the house adjoining the prison, stole a bunch of keys and unlocked the outer door and the door of these men's cells. The other three prisoners, one of whom is old man Yoho, accused of the murder of Joshua Allman, were left locked up.

Up to a late hour last night no trace of the escaped prisoners had been found.

Out of the Lockup.

Yesterday afternoon James Coleman, a colored man arrested by Officer Sealy for disorderly conduct Saturday night, escaped from the lockup. He was let out of the cell, and Lockup Keeper Wilkie had occasion to go around on the other side of the lockup, when Coleman sneaked out the door. He has not been recaptured.

Finished Their Tour.

A telegram from New York has the following about the two young bicycle tourists who were in Wheeling two weeks ago: Thomas G. Allen, Jr., and Will L. Schlichter, the famous round-the-world bicyclists, completed their tour last evening at 5 o'clock, when they rode up to the Astor house. The men have been gone over three years. Both young men were graduated from Washington University in 1890, and made this trip to improve their education. During their tour the two cyclists crossed the Chinese empire from east to west, and are the only men who accomplished this feat since Marco Polo, in the thirteenth century. They have traveled through nearly every important city in the world. They were given a big reception.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and about the City.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of county commissioners will be held to-day.

The wills of A. C. Miller and Amanda H. Snider, deceased, were admitted to probate Saturday and ordered to be recorded.

Yesterday the Tautonia singing society gave an enjoyable and orderly excursion to Sistersville on the Liberty. It was largely attended.

Freight engine No. 484, which smashed into the Main street building, on Friday evening, is again on the Baltimore & Ohio track doing full work.

There are ten assorted cases for this morning's court, most of them from a raid on a sparring match in East Wheeling at an early hour yesterday morning.

Saturday night the new electric light plant of the McLure house was tried for the first time, and it worked excellently. The lights are above the average in steadiness and brightness.

Yesterday afternoon a horse wandered from a field east of the city upon the Elm Grove railway, where it fell through a trestle. Trains were delayed about half an hour while the horse was removed.

The council committee on wharves will meet on the wharf this afternoon to consider the Pewky station matter, and the streets, alleys and grades committee this evening at the city hall to consider the grade at the Top mill.

The funeral of ex-policeman John Cruse took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, and was largely attended. Mrs. Cruse desires to express her thanks to the warm friends who have been so kind in her affliction, and to all who thoughtfully sent floral remembrances.

Work on the underground telephone conduits was pushed all day yesterday on Market street north of Fourteenth, and the work was about finished to the latter street. The manhole at the alley next north was also pushed toward completion at a rapid rate. The storm in the afternoon filled the trenches.

The Union Veteran Legion will hold memorial service on Thursday evening, June 8, in the G. A. R. hall, Main street. The evening will be passed with fine music and vocal selections by Mr. Zulauf and other local talent. Addresses will be delivered by Dr. Riker, Captain Dovener, Prof. Crago and others.

The rush to the park yesterday was unprecedented this season. Two or three sections of the hourly trains were run out by the Elm Grove road, and all were well filled in spite of the threatening clouds. With the thermometer at 90 in town the shade of the park trees and the always fresh air are a grateful change. The Opera House orchestra rendered a choice programme of appropriate music. Several people were wet in the afternoon.

The Blennerhassett wheelmen will be expected to enliven over the coming meeting of state wheelmen in Wheeling in August. It will be the first state meeting of bicyclers and great preparations will be made for the same by the Wheeling league. The meet will last two days, and some fine races may be expected, as some of the finest riders in the country will be secured. Parkersburg should be well represented at this meeting for she wants to entertain the state league next year.—Parkersburg State Journal.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Logan Drug Company, Druggists.
